SURELY SETTLES UPSET STOMACHS

"Pape's Diapiesin" Ends Indigestion, Gas, Sourness in Five Minutes

"Really does" put bad stomachs in order—"really does" overcome indigestion, dyspepsia, gas, heartburn and sourness in five minutes—that's just what makes Pape's Diapiesin the largest selling stomach regulator in the world. If what you eat ferments into stubborn lumps, your belch gas and eructate sour, undigested food and acid; head is dizzy and aches; breath foul; tongue coated; your insides filled with bile and indigestible waste, remember the moment Diapiesin comes in contact with the stomach all such distress vanishes. It's truly astonishing—almost marvelous, and the joy is its harmlessness.

A large fifty-cent case of Pape's Diapiesin will give you a hundred dollars worth of satisfaction or your druggist hands you your money back. It's worth its weight in gold to men and women who can't get their stomachs regulated. It belongs in your home—should always be kept handy in case of a sick, sour, upset stomach during the day or night. It's the quickest, safest and most harmless stomach doctor in the world.

II DECISION

George and Francis, against Charles A. Brown, seeking a decree defining the duties and obligations of the executor and guardian under the will of John II. This case was decided in 1903 in an opinion written by Chief Justice Frear, now Governor. Former Decision Attacked. "In that case the same attack was made the validity of the first decision of the Supreme Court (which declared that the daughter Irene took the fee simple title to the whole estate) as that made upon the decision before Judge Dole, but the court held that the validity of the court sitting with two substitute judges could not be attacked collaterally. Other points of attack were made, as before Judge Dole, but were not decided in favor of the two grandchildren of John II. Therefore one is not to expect that the Supreme Court of the Territory will disregard its prior decision in this matter. This decision is reported in 14 Hawaiian Reports, page 308.

Judge Dole decided that he would not follow the decision (which the Federal Court is bound to do, if the same is a settled legal doctrine in the local courts), because he said that the premises upon which the court based its argument were the words and meaning of the will of John II, written in the Hawaiian language. Therefore, he decided the case independently of that decision. "In the second place, there was a first decision, which definitely decided the meaning and effect of the will. This was in 1897, reported in 11 Hawaiian Reports, page 47. The court had before it a translation of the will. The will makes A. F. Judd, and another, executors, and guardians of the person and property of the minor daughter, Irene.

The controversy in its chief point at issue is one of fact—the great and important fact being the true meaning of the will, as written in the Hawaiian language. Judge Dole was enabled to get away from the constraint of the decision of the Supreme Court of the Territory of Hawaii by his contention that he could decide
